To whom it may concern:

I wanted to comment on the importance of continued reception of FM translator service. I currently listen to K-Love on 91.9 MHz.

Specifically, I feel that K-Love is a great station, and provides a necessary service to my community in San Jose and Santa Clara. Local events are broadcast, but still a common message can be sent to the whole nation through this process. I love the music and the overall message that is positive and encouraging. Too much of the news and media choose to focus on the negative aspects of life, and K-Love chooses to be different. I believe this unique station is invaluable to the moral and emotional welfare of our community.

If the Low Power FM stations were to take priority over the translator services (such as K-Love), I would be deeply saddened. I believe this would send a message counter to our forefathers' belief in freedom of speech and religion. Our community needs to have choice in the type of media on the airwaves. I don't believe the LPFM stations could possibly have such a positive effect on the community and give us a family friendly alternative.

I firmly believe in the values that K-Love represents. A significant number of others that I interact with also listen to K-Love and have similar feelings. I hope you will listen to the people that are being affected by your decision, and not just the big business lobby. The fabric of society is in dire need of more stations like K-Love, and less of the dime-a-dozen 'reality radio' stations that stand for pranks and humor at the cost of others. Please preserve this alternative station.

Thank you for your consideration,
